Heavy rains for forty-eight hours and the generally high temperatures of the last week have caused the more important tributaries of the rivers to put out much more water than was antichated. Forecaster Pennywitt has sent out a warning that the water will reach twenty-nine feet. This means that all the lowlands will be submerged and mills and factories stopped.

"The broadening effect of the responsibility McKinley had to carry," said President Tatt, "shows fitself in no respect more conspicuously than in his change of view regarding a policy of which he had always been the chief exponent. May we not hope that the change he advocated may goon find expression in our national policy toward our good neighbor in the north, who has come half way to meet us?

"The Canadian agreement, if confirmed, will be a fitting close to a century's controversies and permanently establish good feeling and commercial union between kindred peoples. Of McKinley's commercial policy President Taft said in part:

"He felt the expansion of this country into a great world power. He saw the future growth of its commerce with other nations. He came to know that the high protection policy was too provincial and that it was time to moderate it.

"He had mellowed his views on this subject. He continued to advocate enough protection to prevent our industries from being destroyed by competition under conditions abroad that were impossible here; but he proposed to mitigate the exclusiveness of a protective tariff by reciprocity treaties that should reduce

Mrs. E. C. Goddard Resigns When Associates Publicly Oppose Mayor Speer's Candidacy.

COLORADO SPRINGS. Colo. Jan. 30.—
Dissension in the Woman's club of Colorado Springs, precipitated a few days ago, when the legislative committee sent a letter to this county's members of the legislature hostile to the candidacy of Mayor Speer of Denver for the United States senate, came to a head this afternoon when Mrs. Elizabeth Cass Goddard, one of the best-known club women in the state, tendered her resignation from the ciub, asking for an early acceptance.

Mrs. Goddard, who made her letter public, gives as her reason the newspaper notoriety which, she says, has brought discredit to the club, and declares that its by-laws strictly forbid the discussion of religion or politics.

Her action follows the publication of a letter yesterday by Mrs. Nellie L. C. Hodges, chairman of the legislative committee, defending its course on the ground that it was given full power to lact

SOME SUFFOCATE IN RED HOT ASHES FROM VOLCANO

Tidal Wave Follows, Destroying Five Villages in Twinkling of an Eye.

MANILA, Jan. 31.-Latest govern ment reports confirm the previous reports that three hundred persons were killed by the earthquake and eruption of Mount Taal. No Americans are among the number.

It is impossible to estimate how many natives on the west shore were buried in the ashes, but it is known that twenty-one were suffocated and five fatally burned.

The organized relief expedition now has charge of the situation. A majority of the inhabitants were driven to safety on Friday and Saturday.

Five villages were obliterated and three partly destroyed by a twelve-foot wave which followed the early shocks.

Coincident with this a superheated blast from the volcano practically cremated those who escaped drowning. Lemoy and Tasl are believed to have been destroyed. Many members of the constabulary were prostrated while at-tempting to rescue natives who were unwilling to abandon their homes. Many deep fissures have opened on the north shore and preliminary soundings indicate that the lake bottom is sinking.

The volcano is mildly active and earth shocks continue frequently.

All of the towns within a radius of twenty miles were more or less dam aged by the shower of mud and stones.

The eruptions continued today. The sky ras cloudless and there was no wind, but the muddy rain fell stead ily. The natives have abandoned their village homes in the vicinity of Lake Taal and sought refuge in the surrounding hills.

Mount Taal rises in the center of Lake Taal, a body of water not more than fifteen miles in circumference. It is thirty-four miles from this city, from which dense clogds of smoke rising from the crater are plainly visible.

The observatory authorities believe that Manila is in no danger, but there is some alarm among the natives, who recall the destruction occasioned by An American school teacher who has traversed the west shores of Lake Taal telegraphs that five small villages were destroyed by the tidal wave and that not less than 300 persons have been killed in that vicinity. recall the destruction occasioned by Mount Mayon, the other volcano of Luzon, in 1897. So far, however, it has shown no threatening disturbance.

Island Sinks Five Feet.

Investigators of the bureau of science report that with the first violent eruption of Taal on Saturday the volcanic island appeared to sink five feet and the waters of the lake rising swept the shores a mile inland carrying away the bamboo shacks and catching a score of natives. Others living in the vicinity had taken warning and fled. The towns of Taal, Lomery and Talisay suffered the most.

Mount Taal rises 1001 feet from the center of Lake Taal, province of Ban-tangas, Luzon. It is the second vol-cano of importance in Luzon and has preceding the present one since 1709. It has been more or less active from time immemorial. Its most destruc-tive eruptions occurred in 1754 and continued for a period of six months, causing much loss of life and enormous destruction of property. There were less serious outbreaks in 1808 and 1873.

In 1769 Mount Mayon was in erup-tion for two months, destroying the towns of Cagsauaa and Malinao, to-gether with several villages. In 1814 it burst forth again, destroying five towns. Another eruption occurred in May, 1897, when 400 persons lost their lives. The latest outbreak, less so-vere, was in March, 1900.
